The image features the word "life" in a large, lowercase, sans-serif font. The letters are a light beige or off-white color, contrasting with a textured, light brown background that resembles paper or fabric. The word is positioned in the upper half of the frame, with the letters slightly overlapping. The overall aesthetic is minimalist and naturalistic.

New Beginnings Life Preparatory Academy is a non-public, full-day school that provides special education and vocational training to eligible students who live in Washington, D.C. We accept boys and girls ages 13 to 21 living with special needs or learning disabilities.

A NEW BEGINNING

Our goal is to provide students with an academic and vocational education—along with life skills— to build positive self-esteem and fully prepare them for the working world.

goal

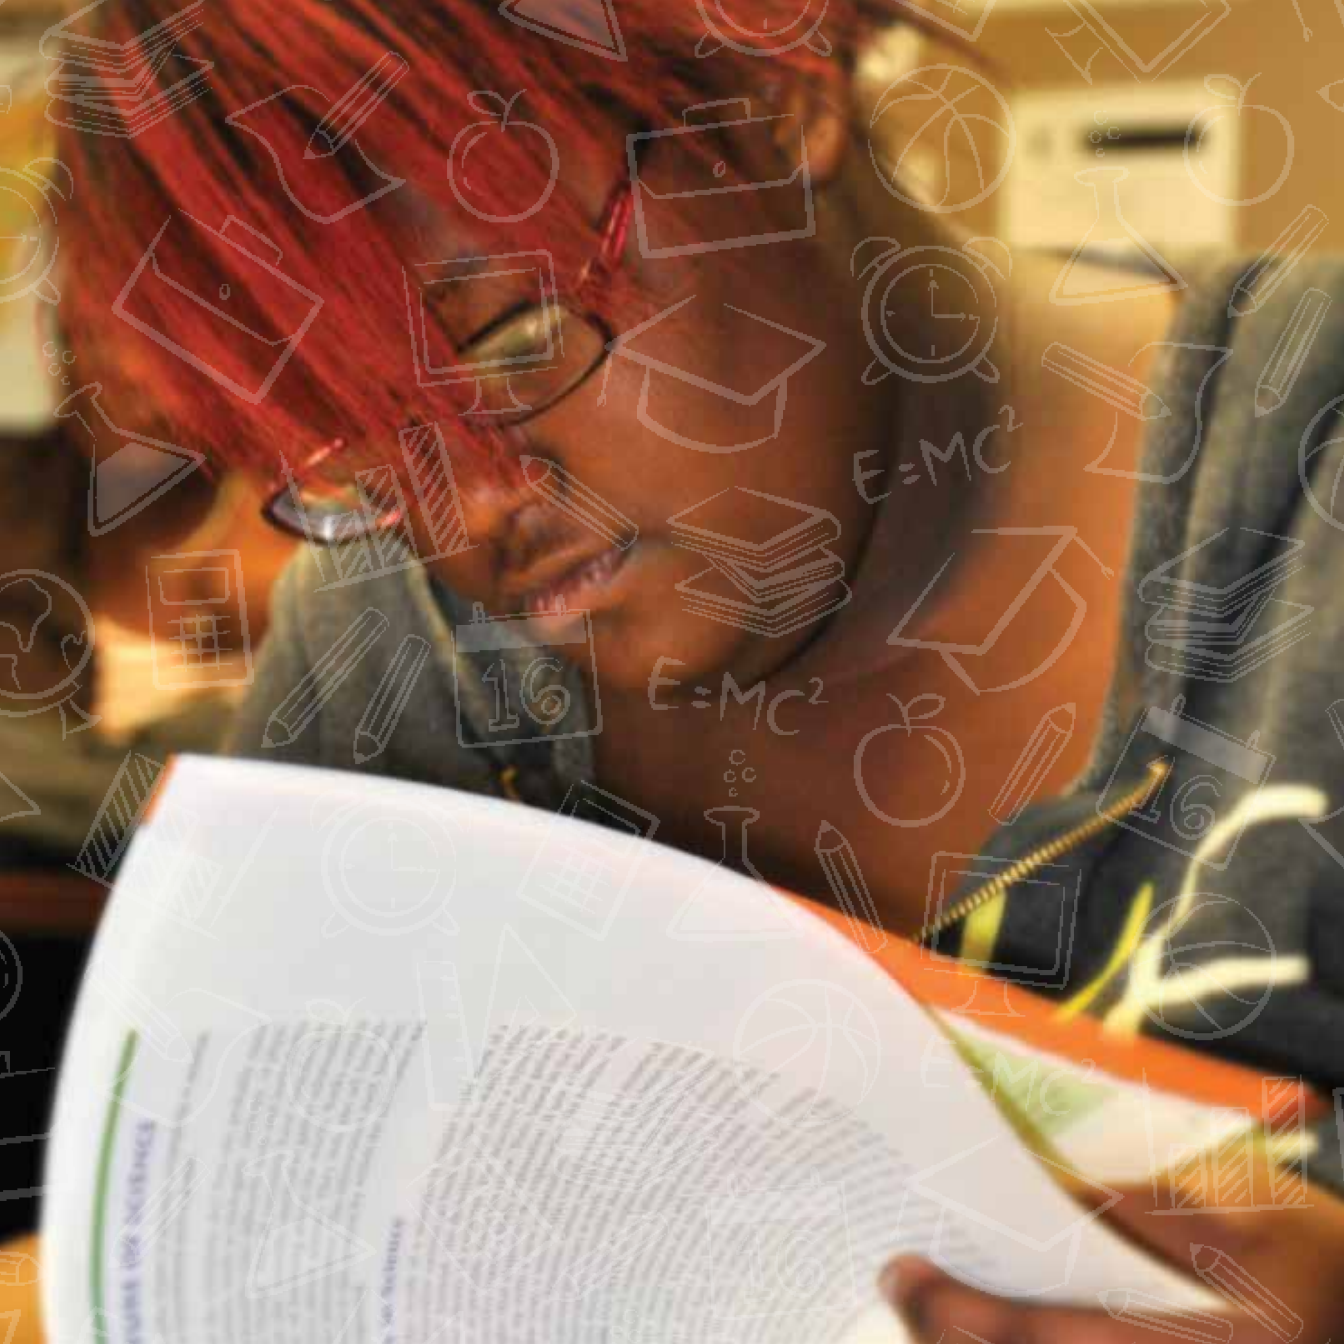

Founded in 2007 by Donté Davis, New Beginnings has helped more than 150 students realize their potential and pursue their dreams.

SPECIALIZED, EXPERT INSTRUCTION TO MEET THE NEEDS OF EACH STUDENT

Our academic staff members are highly qualified and experienced, with distinct certifications as well as licenses to teach special education. Staff members are also mentors and develop close, supportive relationships with the young people they teach.

help

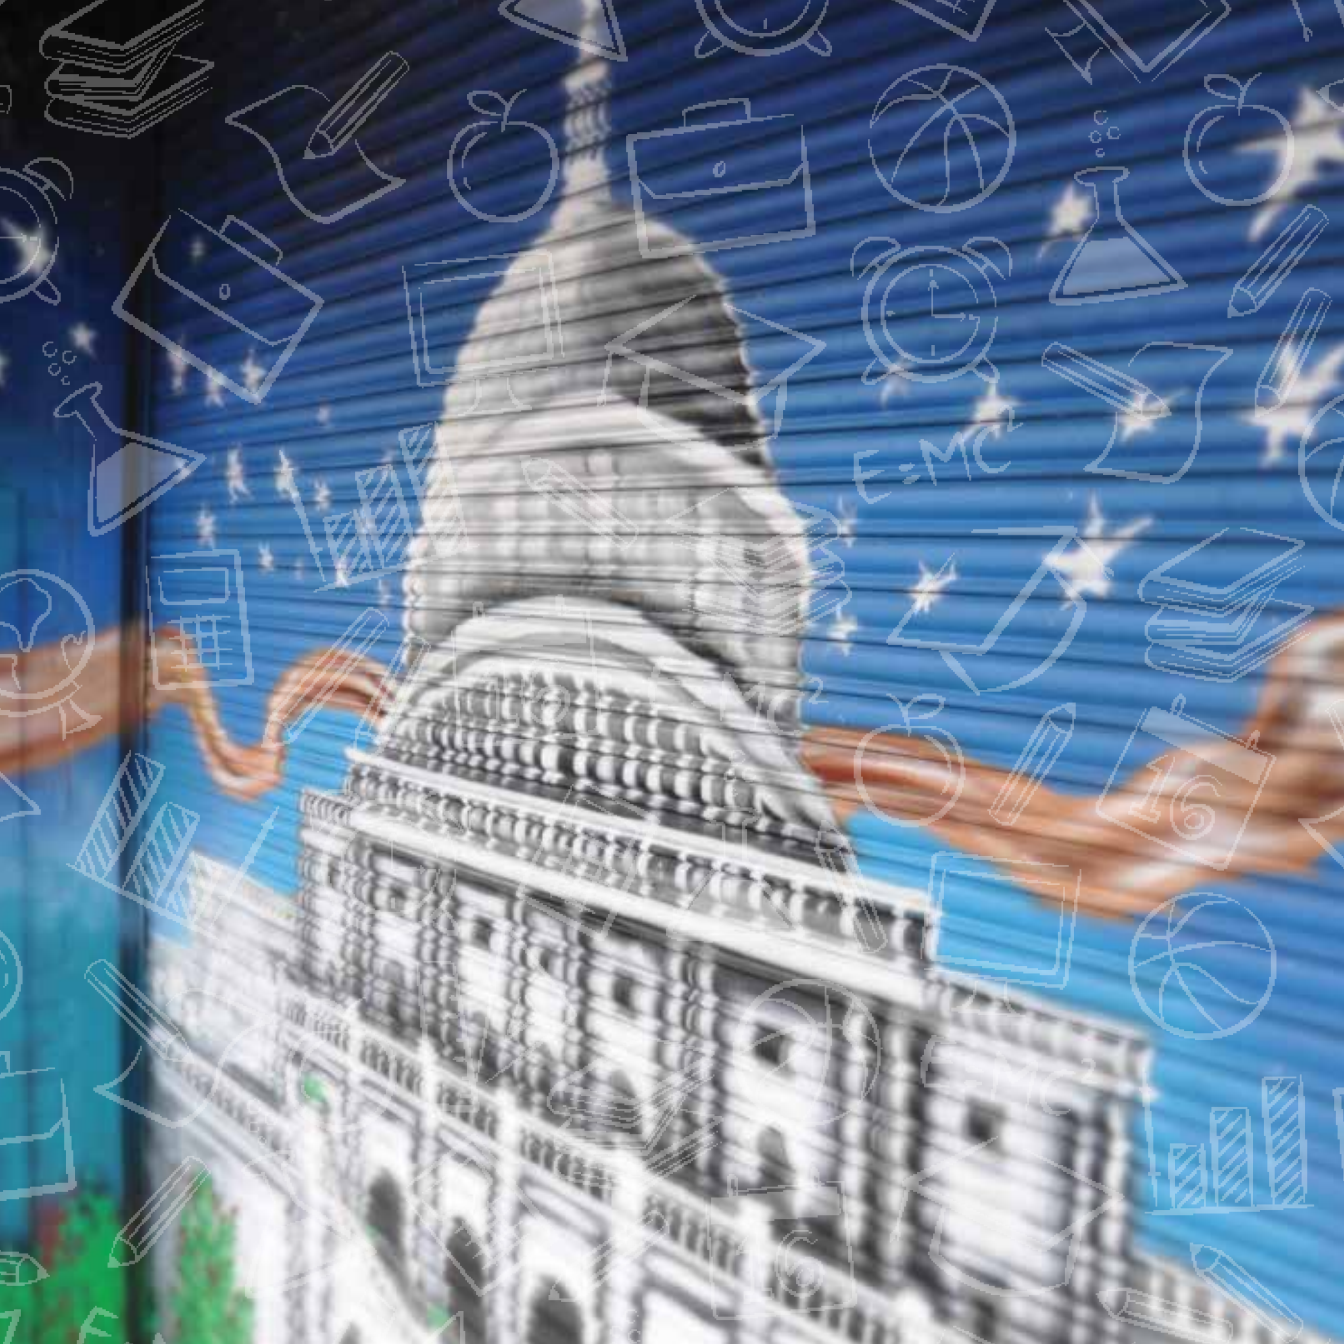

At New Beginnings, small class sizes ensure a low student-to-teacher ratio to help students stay engaged and learn better. Our caring staff give students the right amount of stimulation and personal attention while accommodating their individual learning needs. Our school building is custom-designed with small classrooms, workshops and simulated real work environments—such as a hair salon and auto shop—to enhance students' experience.
